SUMMARY OF APPROACH

Alliance Trust aims to be a core equity holding for investors that delivers a real return over the long term through a combination of capital growth and a rising dividend. The Company invests primarily in global equities across a wide range of industries and sectors to achieve its objective.

The Company's investment manager, Willis Towers Watson, has appointed a number of stock pickers with different styles, who each ignore the benchmark and only buy a small number of stocks in which they have strong conviction. Investors therefore get the benefit of both highly focused stock picking to increase potential outperformance versus the benchmark and manager diversification to reduce risk and volatility. The Company's diversified but highly active multi-manager portfolio is competitively priced.

Risk warnings

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future returns. The value of shares and the income from them can rise and fall, so investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Net Asset Value ("NAV") performance is not the same as share price performance and investors may not realise returns the same as NAV performance. Exchange rate changes may cause the value of overseas investments to go down as well as up and can impact on both the level of income received and capital value of your investment. Investment trusts may borrow to finance further investment (gearing). The use of gearing is likely to lead to volatility in the NAV, meaning that a relatively small movement, down or up, in the value of a trust's assets will result in a magnified movement, in the same direction, of that NAV. This may mean that you could get back less than you invested or nothing at all.

NAV and NAV total return is based on NAV including income with debt at fair value, after all manager fees (including Willis Towers Watson's fees) and allows for any tax reclaims when they are achieved. The NAV total return shown in the factsheets up to May 2018 was based on NAV excluding income with debt valued at par.

1. Total borrowings at par value divided by net assets.

2. Factsheet reissued to restate the net gearing level which was incorrectly reported with total borrowings calculated at fair value rather than calculated as stated as total borrowings at par value minus total cash and equivalents, divided by net assets with debt at par.

3. Annual dividend per share divided by share price.

4. MSCI All Country World Index Net Dividends Reinvested.

5. 1 April 2017 was the date that Willis Towers Watson was appointed investment manager.

6. The OCR target of 0.65% is based on NAV reported as at 31 December 2017.

7. The OCR for year to 31 December 2019 was calculated in line with the industry standard using the average of net asset values at each NAV calculation date. Previously we reported the OCR based on the average Net Asset Value (NAV) denominator of opening and closing NAV for the year; based on the old methodology, the OCR for the year to 31 December 2019 was 0.64%.

INVESTMENT COMMENTARY

For the month of July, the Company's Total Shareholder Return and NAV Total Return were -0.8% and -0.9% respectively, in line with the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) benchmark which returned -0.9%.

Amazon.com was the top contributor over July, returning +7.3%. Despite the global slowdown in the Coronavirus outbreak and the re-opening of the high street, the demand for online purchases continues to grow. In addition, Qorvo performed strongly over the month as it experienced particularly strong demand for both its 5G wireless network and Wi-Fi hardware as consumers continue to work from home. Microsoft Corp was the top detractor from the Company's portfolio over the month, returning -5.3% with the stock pulling back in July, after a strong rally since its lows in March.

Within the portfolio, the position in the leading global distribution system company, Amadeus IT, used by travel agents and airlines to distribute inventory was sold. The increase in Coronavirus cases globally has prolonged the decline in demand for air travel, increasing uncertainty for this company. Furthermore, the position in Altice US, an American television cable provider, was also removed as demand from users declined whilst costs continued to rise, exacerbating the compression of gross margins. Over the month, new positions were initiated in Berkshire Hathaway given its large cash position and diversified earnings profile, as well as in JP Morgan. JP Morgan has a very strong management team and the company's diversified business lines allowed them to deliver better than expected earnings during the second quarter.

Over July, we have maintained the use of gearing at the lower end of our range with the portfolio remaining broadly diversified but with high levels of active share.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future returns. The mention of any specific shares should not be taken as a recommendation to deal.
