

Monthly Factsheet

SUMMARY OF APPROACH

Alliance Trust aims to be a core equity holding for investors that delivers a real return over the long term through a combination of capital growth and a rising dividend. The Company invests primarily in global equities across a wide range of industries and sectors to achieve its objective.

The Company's investment manager, Willis Towers Watson, has appointed a number of stock pickers with different styles, who each ignore the benchmark and only buy a small number of stocks in which they have strong conviction. Therefore, we believe investors get the benefit of both highly focused stock picking to increase potential outperformance versus the benchmark and manager diversification which should reduce risk and volatility. We believe that the Company's diversified but highly active multi-manager portfolio is competitively priced.

Risk warnings

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future returns. The value of shares and the income from them can rise and fall, so investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Net Asset Value ("NAV") performance is not the same as share price performance and investors may not realise returns in line with NAV performance. Exchange rate changes may cause the value of overseas investments to go down as well as up and can impact on both the level of income received and capital value of your investment. Investment trusts may borrow to finance further investment (gearing). The use of gearing is likely to lead to volatility in the NAV, meaning that a relatively small movement, down or up, in the value of an investment trust's assets will result in a magnified movement, in the same direction, of that NAV. This may mean that you could get back less than you invested or nothing at all.

Investment Commentary

For the month of October, the Company's Total Shareholder Return and NAV Total Return were 1.8% and 2.8% respectively, while the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) returned 3.4%.

Over the month, Microsoft Corp was the biggest contributor, with an absolute return of 15.7%. The global technology giant's revenue grew 22% to $45bn, the highest quarterly growth for the company since 2014. Net profit figures for the quarter beat expectations by $4.8bn, driven by the strong performance of the cloud computing unit. The biggest detractor from performance this month was Meta Platforms Inc (formerly known as Facebook Inc), with an absolute return of -5.5%. The company had a difficult month in light of the document leak, containing information on its inner workings which were claimed to operate as "profit over safety". However, the complete rebranding of the Facebook Inc company to Meta Platforms led to a small uptick in the stock's performance towards the end of the month, which is forecasted to continue. The metaverse platform is expected to create a better experience for consumers using augmented and virtual reality technology - from developing video games to using smart-eye glasses.

Within the Company's portfolio, a position in Tencent was initiated by GQG Partners, on the back of continued growth in demand for cloud computing. A position in Epam systems was also initiated by GQG Partners following strong revenue results for the third quarter of 2021, beating analysts' expectations. In contrast, the position in Volkswagen was eliminated by Jupiter Asset Management as the manager redeployed capital to more attractive areas of the market, such as Intel, the largest integrated semiconductor designer which is accelerating its investment in faster device chips to regain technological leadership.
